DAY 3 · (CENTRAL ZONE) SANTA CRUZ - LAS LAGUNETAS/MONTE DE LA ESPERANZA - TEIDE NATIONAL PARK - LA OROTAVA - PUERTO DE LA CRUZ

From the capital, take the TF-24 road to head to Las Lagunetas on the Monte de la Esperanza, then go on to the Teide National Park (a UNESCO World Heritage Site and considered one of Spain's 12 Treasures). Along the way you will find spectacular viewpoints where you can marvel at the landscape, in addition to good Canarian food restaurants and nearby recreational areas. You will no doubt find yourself in front of one of the icons of this beautiful Canary Island. Did you know that Mount Teide is the highest peak in Spain? This magnificent volcano is 3718 metres high and visited annually by about three million tourists who come from all over the world. Located in the Teide National Park, it is the best example of the volcanic phenomena found in Tenerife. Interestingly, the environmental and geological conditions of this National Park and Mars are so similar that the park is used to carry out research to better understand the red planet. We'll ascend the most iconic peak of Spain by taking the TF 24 road. This stunning drive almost reaches the foot of Mount Teide and will allow you to explore picturesque places and unusual viewpoints, like the Montaña Grande, Ortuño and Ayosa viewpoints. From here Mount Teide will already be the star of your trip, a dominating presence emerging majestically above forests and distant bleak volcanic rocks. From the Parador Cañadas del Teide, numerous hiking trails can be followed. Nearby you can take a cable car and go up to the magnificent volcano. (Note: Remember that to go to the top of Mount Teide you must obtain a free permit and which must be ordered online well in advance). Continuing our journey, we descend by the captivating TF21 road, full of imposing precipices and rugged landscapes of unusual beauty. Now we're heading over to La Orotava with its important old town, less than an hour away. La Orotava is known internationally for its colourful flower and sand carpets which are made to celebrate the feast of Corpus Christi. These vast and widely renowned works of art can reach up to 3000 square metres. A truly unique show! If you won't be in La Orotava on this date, then don't miss the informative Museo de las Alfombras (Sand and Flower Carpet Museum). Any other recommendations? Visit the church of San Benito and the old convent, now converted into the Museo de Artesanía (Craft Museum). Casa Torrehermosa, a stately building dating from the 17th century, and the church of La Concepción, with its unusual Canary-style baroque facade. This is, of course, a land with close links to America and naturally with its art too, as reflected in this amazing church. Inside you'll find a real treasure. Our tour continues through the famous stately buildings of La Orotava, such as Casa Lercaro with its architecture typical of the island including elegant balconies and baroque façades, or Casa de los Balcones, which dates back to the 17th century. A visit to the Casa del Turista is another good option. Here you can admire authentic local carpets, buy souvenirs or take in the beautiful landscape from its interior viewpoint. If you have more time, you can visit the surroundings of the Town Hall, the Plaza de la Constitución or the pretty botanical garden known as "La Hijuela", where you can see the fascinating Canary Islands dragon tree. And finally, from the beautifully terraced Victoria Gardens you can enjoy magnificent views of the sea and the imposing marble mausoleum of Diego Ponte del Castillo. If you would like to find out more about Tenerife, don't forget to visit the Telesforo Bravo Visitor Centre. Here you can discover the history of the island and get to know the Teide National Park first-hand. (Note: At the town hall you can book interesting guided tours around the town and surrounding area based on history and science, or dramatised accounts, in addition to tours on horseback, among others).

Thus we continue our journey through what is known as "Lucky Island". Our next stop will be the town of Puerto de la Cruz a few kilometres away from La Orotava and internationally renowned for its popular festivals and celebrations such as Carnival and Oktoberfest which attract thousands of visitors each year.

Overnight stay in Puerto de la Cruz.

Discover its traditional buildings such as the Casa de la Real Aduana, now a tourist office; the Casa de los Iriarte, birthplace of the great Spanish fable writers; beautiful green spaces like the Botanical Garden and tourist complexes including Costa Martiánez, located in an exceptional landscape. "El Lago", as the Puerto de la Cruz inhabitants call it, is one of the best examples of coastline development and a global aesthetic benchmark in landscape integration for leisure purposes; featuring basalt rock, emerald waters, gardens and sculptures, with stunning views of Mount Teide. The large lake is a bathing area of about 27,000 cubic metres of seawater surrounded by several swimming pools for adults and children and as it's also a leisure park there are five islands with bars, restaurants, grills and party and meeting rooms. The tourist complex of Costa Martiánez was designed by the painter, sculptor and designer César Manrique - World Prize of Ecology and Tourism 1978 -, using elements of traditional Canary Island architecture and endemic flora. It is considered an outdoor museum of contemporary art; inside the enclosure six spectacular sculptures of Manrique are dotted around: "Los Alisios", "La Jibia", "Barlovento", "Raíces al Viento" (Roots in the Wind), "Homenaje a William Reich" (Homage to William Reich) and "Monumento al Mar" (Memorial to the Sea). Looking for fun family activities? Don't miss the famous Loro Parque, with hundreds of animals from all kinds of climates and latitudes: birds, mammals, reptiles and fish from all over the planet will make your visit unforgettable. The shows with orcas and dolphins are incredible! If you have more time, stroll through the hermitage of San Telmo and its surroundings or the Playa Jardín complex, full of black sand beaches and gardens. Altogether an idyllic natural environment. The Punta del Viento viewpoint offers exceptional views of the endless ocean and the churches of Nuestra Señora de la Peña and San Francisco will delight you with their rich heritage. Last but not least, you can visit the Municipal Archaeological Museum, where interesting collections are exhibited. Afterwards, set off for Los Realejos, less than thirty minutes' drive away. Its beach, Playa del Socorro, is surrounded by magnificent countryside and is a real haven for surfers. Along the Rambla de Castro walkway you can take a laid-back stroll in a beautiful setting surrounded by palm trees. With the sea as a backdrop and the fort of San Fernando silhouetted on the horizon, you'll have plenty of wonderful photo opportunities. For a perfect end to the day, have bonita potatoes, black pig or try the area's famous white wine. Overnight stay in Puerto de la Cruz.

● DAY 5 · (NORTHERN AREA) PUERTO DE LA CRUZ - CUEVA DEL VIENTO - ICOD DE LOS VINOS - GARACHICO - LOS SILOS - BUENAVISTA - ICOD DE LOS VINOS

Next we'll leave Puerto de la Cruz and drive to the famous Cueva del Viento in Icod de los Vinos, less than half an hour from Los Realejos. The Cueva del Viento cave is one of the best preserved and longest lava tubes in the world. In fact, its 17-kilometre length make it the longest lava tube in the European Union. Go on an authentic journey to the centre of the earth! This volcanic cavity will surprise you with its labyrinths of lava, incredible rock formations and peculiar animals, unique in the world, which have adapted to this barren terrain. (Note: Before visiting the cave it is important to check the opening hours and buy the ticket in advance by phone, online or by email. Entrance is usually restricted to small groups of up to 15 people. The visiting hours are only visible when you access the online ticket shop on the website. There you can also see how many places are available. The schedules of the visits vary and are organised according to the language in which the tour is provided). After this terrific experience, you can get to know the picturesque town of Icod de los Vinos and its connections with wine. In this town you'll have the chance to savour its exquisite cuisine including delicious broths, fish, grilled meats, potatoes and delicious cheeses... In addition, you'll be able to enjoy some incredible views of Mount Teide. Icod de los Vinos was founded in the 16th century and offers visitors a rich architectural heritage to explore. Discover its stately homes, hermitages, churches, old palaces or convents, such as the church of San Marcos, the Plaza de la Pila square and the Museo Sacro (Sacred Museum). It is also worth stopping by the Town Hall, the church of San Agustín or the Virgen de los Afligidos hermitage. Of course, you can't leave without getting a photo of the town's icon: a centuries-old dragon tree, an authentic natural monument fifteen metres high and eight hundred years old. Later if you have more time, you could set off for San Marco beach and relax while you look out at the endless sea. Next, we'll take a trip to Garachico. Just a few kilometres away from Icod de los Vinos, its historical heritage has been declared an Asset of Cultural Interest. This idyllic town offers excellent views of the sea and is set in a unique natural enclave: cliffs, volcanic landscapes, nearby pine forests and banana plantations... Not only that, it has a rich heritage of buildings dating from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. You can't miss the palace of the Marquis of Adeje, the church of Santa Ana, the fortress of San Miguel... If you prefer, you can stroll along its beach and lively harbour. It is also worth taking a dip in the natural pools of El Caletón. The tragic volcanic eruption that ravaged the village in the eighteenth century created these unique pools of volcanic origin. The charming villages of Los Silos and Buenavista are well worth a visit, strolling through their streets is a real delight. If you have time and if it's possible you can drive to the Teno Lighthouse. Return journey and overnight stay in Icod de los Vinos.

● DAY 6 · (SOUTHERN AREA) ICOD DE LOS VINOS - CHINYERO VOLCANO RESERVE - SANTIAGO DEL TEIDE - MASCA HAMLET - LOS GIGANTES CLIFF - PUERTO DE SANTIAGO (OPTIONAL BOAT TRIP TO SEE WHALES AND DOLPHINS)

Our trip continues as we enter the amazing Natural Reserve of the Chinyero volcano, one hour away from Icod de los Vinos. You will definitely be surprised by this natural landscape covering 24 square kilometres and found between the municipalities of El Tanque, Santiago del Teide and Garachico. Its ecosystem called "aeroliano" is conditioned by volcanic flows. From the top of Mount Chinyero, which rises to more than 1500 metres, you can admire amazing views, not only of Mount Teide, but of the whole Island. Next, you can go to Santiago del Teide, a town about forty minutes drive from the Chinyero Volcano Reserve. It is a delightful town devoted to agriculture, pottery and tourism. Its natural environment is truly unique. From the outskirts of this town a peculiar landscape fusion is observed: the vineyards seem to merge with the volcanic areas of Chinyero, creating a landscape of singular beauty. If you wish, you can go to the nearby town of Arguayo, where it is possible to visit the Pottery Centre and the Cha Domitila Ethnographic Museum. Half an hour from Arguayo, the hamlet of Masca stands impressive with its structures rising over one of the highest cliffs of the island, a reflection of the rural architecture of Tenerife. (Note: Currently, the Masca trail is closed). At the next stop we find the dramatic cliff of Los Gigantes. Here the vertical mass of stone, reaching almost 600 metres in height, plunges down to the sea, creating an epic setting. (Note: From the port of Los Gigantes it is possible to take a boat to see cetaceans and view the magnificent cliffs from the water. Look for boats which are included in the sustainability charter). The coast of Tenerife is an excellent place for observing the natural world. Its location near the coast, only about three miles away, and its variety of species, 21 of the 79 existing worldwide inhabit the island, have made Tenerife the European region that receives the most visits to see cetaceans. As an alternative to sea excursions, from the viewpoint of Achipenque you can see the cliffs of Los Gigantes). And finally we arrive in Puerto de Santiago! Surrounded by rugged mountains, craggy sea cliffs, striking volcanoes and quiet sandy beaches, Puerto de Santiago has carried on a long fishing tradition that the Museo del Pescador (Fisherman's Museum) bears witness to. We'll continue the drive to the north of the island. On the way, we suggest you stop by the Malpaís de Güímar with more than 300 hectares of Special Nature Reserve with a stunning volcanic landscape. In the centre stands the Montaña Grande mountain. Another option could be a visit to the Pyramids of Güímar, just 26 kilometres from Santa Cruz de Tenerife. Here you'll find five structures in the form of stepped pyramids ordered astronomically by the summer and winter solstices. An area of considerable importance, the Pirámides de Güímar Ethnographic Park is also considered an Asset of Cultural Interest. Mystery has always surrounded this enclave whose origin, even today, continues to divide scientists' and public opinion. The charming fishing village of Candelaria appears along the road a few minutes away. There you'll find the famous Basilica of Our Lady of Candelaria, a pilgrimage destination for Canary Islanders for centuries. Our Lady of Candelaria has in fact been the official patron saint of Tenerife since 1914. (Note: The image of Our Lady is surrounded by religious devotion and legends. They say that in the fourteenth century, a Gothic style sculpture of Our Lady appeared miraculously on the shores of the Güímar valley, just before the conversion of the island to Catholicism).
